

Code of Conduct

There is one rule for all of us at Abbot's Hill: adults and pupils act with courtesy and consideration for others.

This means that:

- We always respect and understand other people's points of view.
- In class, we make it as easy as possible for pupils to learn and staff to teach.
- Bullying, whether physical, verbal or mental, is totally unacceptable at all times.
- When representing the School off premises we act with courtesy and consideration.
- We look after and respect all visitors to our School.
- We always dress according to the School code and take pride in our appearance.
- We commit to our studies and chosen extra-curricular activities.
- We always respect other people's possessions and do not borrow them without permission.
- We respect and take care of our school buildings and grounds.
- We behave sensibly and speak politely to everyone.
