Stephanie Hardy, Assistant Head Prep (Pastoral)

Steph graduated from the University of Warwick with a B.A. (QTS) in English and Art, specialising in the early years. She started her career teaching Year 1 and then Reception classes, before moving into the juniors. Steph has taught in a number of local Hertfordshire schools, becoming the Special Needs Coordinator and part of the senior management team at George Street Primary in Hemel Hempstead. Since joining Abbots Hill School

Steph has been Year 5 and then Year 6 form teacher, as well as leading Religious Studies and Maths across the Prep School. She joined the Senior Management Team as Assessment Lead in September 2019.

Steph's passion is netball. She has been playing in a local league for over 20 years and is the manager of her club. She is also a level 1 netball coach for a junior club. Steph grew up in Wales and still has family there. As a child she was lucky enough to have very few worries other than how to get the thick mud off her welsh mountain pony. Steph is married to Andy, a secondary school Head Teacher, and has two daughters who both came through Abbot's Hill Prep School. Her eldest is now at University of Edinburgh and her youngest is in Year 10.

Steph is looking forward to developing her new role as Assistant Head of Prep with responsibility for the Pastoral issues within the Prep school.
